

Stefanie Johnson and Parker Capra Win Texas Bluebonnet Queens and Masters

By: Tony Franklin, Publisher
SAN ANTONIO, TX - Stefanie Johnson and Parker Capra are both brand new champions of the Bluebonnet Queens and Texas Masters tournaments.

Stefanie Johnson and Parker Capra

For PWBA star Johnson, this was her first time taking home the Texas tiara that all Queens champions earn for this special victory. She was the wire-to-wire leader of both qualifying rounds and the eight games of match-play. She finished 218 pins ahead of 2nd place finisher, Jovan Ebalagoza-Flores.

"I noticed that a lot of the girls were playing the pattern straighter and I was left of them the whole time, Jovan was the only one that was in the same part of the lane with me," Johnson said on the keys to success.

She has also been working overtime with the Chris Warren Pro Shop to make some adjustments to her game, "I've been going through a massive fit change, I only had six balls with me and that was so helpful to only have six, it allowed me to make quicker changes," she added.

Johnson earned $1,040, the tiara and an entry into the USBC Queens tournament for 1st place, with Ebalagoza-Flores earning $825 for 2nd. There were 42 entries for this year's event.

Other Finalists:

3. Anita Arnett $625
4. Kiyoko McDONALS $515
5. Kelsi Anderson $405
6. Paige Beeney $355
7. Estafanie Cobo $305
8. Kristina Kennicutt $280

Tori Franklin Wins HS Reg II Girls Singles; Sets Two State Records

Tori Franklin

By: Genie Franklin, Publisher
PLANO, TX – Tori Franklin, a sophomore at Frisco High School, had her sights set on a repeat singles title at the Texas High School Region II Tournament held at Plano Super Bowl Sunday, Mar. 5.

Franklin had to work for it as Allen HS Freshman, Clara Campbell, came out strong with games of 256-216 to set the high scoring pace.

But, Tori's third game of 287 helped her take a seventy pin lead and never look back, winning back-to-back singles titles and advancing to the State Singles Championship held in San Antonio in a few weeks.

With a fourth game of 224, Franklin then set a 4-game high school state record with 995 which beat Kayla Endicott's 979 set in 2012 and Tori's final game of 226 set the 5-game state record with 1,221 overtaking Asia Wren's 1,211 set in 2016.

Campbell finished with 1,154 and Colleyville Heritage

LOVELAND, CO – Sweet-heart Ten Pin Bowling in Loveland, Colo., brought in 51 competitors on the Mike Aulby pattern, where PWBA Hall of Famer Tish Johnson took the lead after the first round of eight games at + 246 in her home state.

Tom Hess smoked the field in the first advancer round, averaging almost 250 for his six games. He held onto the No. 1 seed for the stepladder, with Ricky Schissler, Bryan Pogor and Tony Franklin joining him.

EJ Tackett Wins Second Title of Season at PBA Shawnee Classic

EJ Tackett with Firelake Owner Chris Skillings

By: Nolan Hughes

SHAWNEE, OK – For the second time this season, EJ Tackett earned the No. 1 seed. For the second time this year, Tackett needed a strike in the 10th frame to win the title, this time at Firelake Bowling Center during the PBA Shawnee Classic.

And for the second time this year, Tackett delivered in the clutch. In a battle between the two most recent Triple Crown winners, he defeated Dom Barrett, 231-226, to win the PBA Shawnee Classic and claim his 18th career PBA Tour title.

"I've been there so many times over the years and either thrown bad shots or thrown good shots and got nine," Tackett said. "I feel like I'm on the roller coaster. You just have to take the good and the bad, continue to put yourself in position, do the best that you can and let the pins fall where they may."

Winners get Cookie Cake at our house!

We are four weeks into the 2023 PBA Tour season and we have seen some great action each week. At the start of the season, I had this to say about the five best players...lets see how its panning out...

"It's tough to beat those in the top five though. Last year they won 12 of the 15 total titles. It's the same five guys every year. The question is why are they virtually unbeatable...Jason Belmonte, Anthony Simonsen, EJ Tackett, Dom Barrett, Kristopher Prather...those are the players."

EJ Tackett – two titles, first in points

Anthony Simonsen – one title, second in points

Dom Barret – third in points

Kris Prather – eight in points

Jason Belmonte – fifteenth in points

Sam Cooley has the other title

It's so tough for new, young talent to break in, the guys at the top are so good and they don't appear to be slowing down anytime soon. Tackett is the most terrifying bowler out there, when he starts striking it feels like 258

Congrats to Bobby Holley on his victory in the SASBA Non-Champs event at Lions Lanes in Ennis. He has been a real force over the last 12 months, really great to see him catch the W. He averaged 251 and went 7-1 in the match-play to slide past Scot Nack.

A big congratulations to all of our High School teams and individuals who made it out of the regional finals and onto the state finals in San Antonio on March 25/26.

We have results in the paper, but I do need to take a second as a proud Dad to congratulate our daughter, Tori for winning the Region II singles finals at Plano Super Bowl last weekend. She was able to successfully defend her Region win from last year, which is what she really wanted, like really really wanted. She worked herself up into quite a tizzy stressing about it, but was able to perform even with her hands shaking the whole time. I don't fully understand how its possible to be that nervous yet still perform that well.

She even shot her new high game, a front 10, 287...I guess we will wait a little while longer for her first crack at 300. As I was holding the camera up videoing her 10th frame, I noticed my hands were shaking a bunch too, that's what makes watching your kids so much fun, the powerless stress!

Congrats to our awesome High School bowlers that made it to state, now let's bring a title back to DFW!

Senior, Savannah Burgin's final game of 261 catapulted her into third with 1,104. Birdville Senior, Morgan Davis held on to the last advancing spot with 1,073.

On the Boy's side, Plano Sr. HS Senior, Noah Turner had a chance at a perfecto on his way to the singles title, but left a few pins for a 298 and 1,168 final score.

Allen HS, Joshua Budnik, finished strong for 1,141 and Plano Sr. HS Senior, Christopher Warren finished with 260 to qualify third with 1,116.

Bret Bates from Timber Creek posted 1,083, Steven Bowman of Richland HS rolled 1,081 for fifth and Allen HS, Garrett Smith had a nice 236 the last game for 1,074 to capture the final spot to advance to State.

The Boys' Team Finals had some excitement coming into the home stretch as only 37 pins separated first from third.

Plano East had a final baker game of 180 to hold off the Allen Eagles and Centennial Titans to take the team title with 2,576. The Eagles rolled a baker 197 to finish with 2,548 and the Titans came in with 160 the last game to record 2,539 and advance to State.

Fort Worth's Chisholm Trail posted the last two baker games of 275 and 188, but fell 50 pins short of Centennial.

The Girl's Allen Eagles took control early to post 2,486 to win the Girl's Team title while Plano East and Richland HS earned their way to State.

DFW South Leaders Stay Perfect

MATCH 10
Mike Young was a fixture in the DFW South District for the last eight plus years coaching the Legacy Broncos team to district championships, regional tournaments and even a state showing or two. He enjoyed working with the kids and sharing his knowledge of the game. He also kept the DFW bowlers informed of the weekly results within the district by writing a weekly recap. Mike's last column precedes this column. Mike will be missed.

He coached his last two matches on February 18 when his Legacy varsity team took on the district-leading DFW South Co-op team. While the Legacy

Other results
Lake Ridge (Kade Pirtle – 451) was victorious over Mansfield (Colin McDonald – 356) 11-4.

Co-op (Tyler Brooks – 443) defeated Frontier (Evan Taylor – 285) 15-0.

MATCH 12
DFW South District teams finished their seasons with a position round. Since the DFW South Co-op team had the varsity championship locked up, and the Lake Ridge girls' varsity team clinched the girls' title, the two undefeated teams bowled against each other for bragging rights. While Lake Ridge bowled well, (Kyrah Durham 279 game, 459 series) the Co-op team was too much for the Eagles to overcome (Tyler Brooks 278 game, 510 series). The Co-op team averaged 206 for its 10 regular games to score a 12-3 victory.

Other results
Lake Ridge (Nolan Lee – 366) grabbed a win over Legacy (Alex Obhmalay – 367) 8-7.

Legacy girls' varsity (Morgan Kolanek – 289) beat Mansfield (Addison Furtick – 284) 15-0.

Lake Ridge Girls' Varsity Team Wins HS Region III

By: Mike Spridco

The Lake Ridge girls' varsity team won its third consecutive Regional Championship Sunday afternoon at USA Bowl and earned a spot at the Dick Atkinson Texas State High School Championships. Although the team was behind Legacy Broncos after the traditional five-person game (727-753), the Lake Ridge girls averaged 156 during the eight Baker matches for a 1,982 total and a 165-pin win.

Legacy finished second with 1,817 and punched its ticket to state as well. The Texas State High School Championships will be held at Bandera Bowl in San Antonio on March 25-26. DFW South will be well represented at the singles portion of the state tournament as well as a total of eight individuals qualified with two of them winning their respective singles divisions.

In the boys' division, William Jewell III from the Co-op team lead wire to wire during the five-game tournament and finished with an 1,162 series.

It was a three-person race in the girls' division as Lake Ridge bowlers Charisse Graham and Kyrah Durham and Marcus High School's Veronyca West battled for the top spot throughout the day.

However, there could only be one winner, and when all was said and done, Graham bested West by 26 pins and Durham by 40 to take home the title.

The list of qualifiers from DFW South are:

Anthony Simonsen Wins 11th Career Title at PBA Wichita Classic

Anthony Simonsen

By: Nolan Hughes
WICHITA, KS - Anthony Simonsen has never been one to shy away from breaking conventional wisdom. This week at Northrock Lanes for the PBA Wichita Classic was no exception.

The 26-year-old defeated Dom Barrett, 257-213, to win his 11th career title.

Just as he did during the first round of the tournament, Simonsen opted to throw urethane on the 45-foot Dragon oil pattern. He aimed directly at the 1-3 pocket, using the shape of the long pattern and the characteristics of the center to his advantage.

"I know this is one of those buildings that if you get lined up, you're able to throw a few strikes," Simonsen said.

"Mentally, I haven't been the sharpest the last couple weeks," he said. "I think that's kind of due to a lack of competing and I'm slowly trying to dial that back in. I'm looking forward to the next couple weeks because I was able to find my feet much sooner in the season."

The Player of the Year race is starting to heat up between Simonsen and EJ Tackett, who won the U.S. Open and PBA Shawnee Classic.

Simonsen achieved his fourth consecutive top-10 finish of the season and is the lone player on Tour to reach match play in all four tournaments. But he isn't concerned about the potential for a first career Player of the Year nod.

"I'm not really a guy who looks big into that," he said. "If I bowl well and that's what it gets me, then that's awesome. But ultimately, I try to look at every event as it's own individual event and try to bowl as well as I can that week."

For Barrett, this marks his second straight runner-up performance after falling to Tackett at the PBA Shawnee Classic last week. The 37-year-old, while disappointed in another second place finish, said he is satisfied with his progress this season.

"If you told me after my first two missed cuts that I'd have back-to-back seconds, I'd be really happy," he said. "I'm much happier with where my game is at now than a couple weeks back."

In the title match, a pair of 2-10 splits on the left lane put Barrett in an early deficit. He said neither shot was too bad and that he changed balls after the first split. He added the lane transition could have been affected by Simonsen's use of urethane.

"After that, it was going to be hard to beat him," Barrett said.

Barrett took down Santtu Tahvanainen, last season's Rookie of the Year, in the semifinal. Tahvanainen, who shot 280 in the opening match of the stepladder against Jakob Butturff, tallied 14 strikes in a row on the championship pair.

The semifinal matchup flipped when Tahvanainen left a pocket 7-10 split in the eighth frame. Barrett seized the opportunity, striking in the eighth and 10th frames to clinch the match.

Butch Cormier Wins Singles at Hilltop Lanes in Waxahachie

Champion Butch Cormier with Runner-up Scott Webb

By: Kathy King

WAXAHACHIE, TX - We had a full field of 80 bowlers for the modified singles tournament at Hilltop Lanes in Waxahachie.

This is one tournament you shouldn't miss. Scott and Deb are great hosts and a great time was had by all.

Tony Lanning was a beast on Saturday for the first 8 games of qualifying and had a 125 pin lead over 2nd place.

The top 26 bowlers bowled 4 more games on Sunday morning and Tony's lead was cut to 25 pins going into the 8 games of match play with 16 bowlers.

Billy Hutchinson shot 276 the first game and took the lead and led through game 7.

In game 8, Billy shot 216 and dropped to third with Butch Cormier and Scott Webb both going around him.

This set up the top 5 bowlers for the staircase final.

In the first match, Pete Thomas defeated Keith Lesko 245-211. Pete then defeated Billy Hutchinson 268-191.

Butch Cormier then beat Pete 258-226. Cormier then

The PBA Tour on Fox Television kicked off the 2023 season with a Friday-Saturday set of telecasts, a dual stepladder for the U.S. Open finals. The Saturday afternoon show on FS1 featured the 9th to 5th seeds after match play, with the winner moving into Sunday's top five stepladder on the main Fox network.

According to Nielsen television ratings posted on showbuzzdaily.com, the telecast averaged 255,000 viewers with 54,000 in the key 18-49 age group, good for a 0.15 rating. That set up the highly watched Sunday with many familiar faces contending for the first major title of the year.

On a weekend when many television programs have high ratings, this one did not disappoint with an average of 1,007,000 viewers and 178,000 in the 18-49 age group, good for a 0.60 or 6% of all television viewers at the moment were watching the PBA. I'd be willing to wager the final 15-minute time blocks had another twenty to fifty thousand additional viewers, especially with the great title match.

A minor drawback to the Sunday telecast was the lead in program, like in past years on ABC-TV at this time of year, a college basketball game extended over its allotted time slot. Granted the delay was near 30 minutes which aired on FS1 in case you missed it (or don't have access to FS1), but the game was among two top five rated women's teams who drew 1.087 million viewers.

Also factored are the viewers waiting for the program afterwards, in this case the NASCAR qualifying race that averaged 2.3 million who are also counted as viewers if they turn on Fox ahead of time. Historically, late January and February have the most people available to watch programming, since northern parts of the country north of the Ohio River have snow cover and colder weather and at times in or digging out after a snowstorm or blizzard conditions. This annual occurrence has led to higher PBA television ratings, a bigger plus in February in years past as the month used to be a traditional ratings measuring month when written diaries were used then mailed back to Nielsen. In any case, this is a great start to the final season of the current PBA/Fox television contract. More on that as the year progresses.

The PBA Tournament of Champions finals will be four shows over three days. This series will expand the top nine from the Open finals to the Top 17 for the ToC stepladder. Here's how it works.

According to the tournament page on pba.com, after the round robin 24-game match play round, players #17 to #13 advance to the first stepladder round on FS1 Friday March 17 at 6:30pm Central. The winner of that show moves to the first of two Saturday night shows at 8:30 Central, also on FS1, with players #12 to #9, the victor moving to the third stepladder round against players #8 to #5. That show's winner will advance to the Fox Television championship stepladder finals Sunday March 19 at 11:00 am Central.

I'm curious how ratings for the shows will be knowing it is also the first weekend of the annual NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. In prior years, The Association has run the World Series of Bowling finals in the days leading up to the tournament, one of the annual TV ratings bonanzas. Casual viewers, helpful in boosting viewership, will be at a premium. But as we've seen, the PBA isn't afraid to try something new for its broadcast television formats.

For this month's edition of Norm's Nuggets, a series of interview segments with recently retired PBA star, Norm Duke, we go back to a match when he set several PBA records that have stood for 29 years. His 18 and 42 game numbers set records, averaging 260 and 248, respectively, the third qualifying six-game block average was 272. Also included were two 299 games, three 300 games, and three 800 series in a tournament, but the best known of these is the mark for the highest losing game in a national television finals. After leading the tournament by over 576 pins over third seed Brian Goebel, both players each rolled eleven strikes, he fell in the title match of the 1994 PBA True Value Open at Landmark Lanes in Peoria, Illinois to Goebel in one of the all-time great PBA TV matches, 296-280. Even after nearly three decades, Duke still has the feeling this was a just little bit more than the one that got away. The only blemish was a weak 10-pin left in the second frame. That week, True Value offered $200,000 bonus for a title match 300 game.

"It seemed like I struck on every ball. I'll probably reflect on it in a couple of weeks, but right now I can't think about it, I've got to go over here and finish the job. 220's going to be a big game today," Duke told analyst Nelson Burton, Jr. before the show's first match.

Now 29 years later, Duke told me with a hint of bitterness the loss still stings a little.

"Ugh, good match man, geez. So I'm leading by 500-plus pins. My last three games of that tournament were 299, 279, 280, and I didn't win it. I felt like I did, 'which one did you win,' I would have said that one. I won that one. I felt like in my mind, no one could touch me, and then Bryan Goebel has a shot at $200,000 for a TV 300 game. I'll never forget it, but that's a character builder."

Duke does have a better memory of an early morning telecast local time after a long day of match play, his 2003 TV 300 game in the PBA Earl Anthony Classic semifinal against Walter Ray Williams, Jr.

"It was 9:00 in the morning, the show started at 8:00 local time after bowling in another center 45 minutes away. We finished at 11:00pm the previous night, and of course you have to be in the building at 6:30. We're all on no sleep, Brian Voss and I head up to the arena and it is dark outside. The reason I shot 300 was I was still sleeping through it. I was so sleepy that day," Duke jokingly added.

Despite the $10,000 bonus, Duke lost the final to Mike DeVaney, 279-248.

The Power of the NBA All-Star Weekend

If you're looking for professional bowling this weekend on cable or network television, you won't find it. That's because all of the action will be completed by Friday at the Firelake Bowling Center in Shawnee, Oklahoma. Could this be a result of the NBA All Star Weekend that's scheduled to air on TNT?

Only the Easter Bunny knows for sure, but just how popular is basketball on television, you might ask. Well, last year's NBA All Star Weekend averaged a 3.1 rating and 6.28 million viewers, according to sportsmediawatch.com. That's a far cry from the recent bowling ratings that sit at a 0.32 rating, with about 1 million viewers each week, according to ustvdb.com.

While Fox and FS1 have done a lot to boost the ratings and understanding of bowling with a glimpse of the different oil patterns and a lane graph that shows the speed and path of the bowling ball on each delivery, Kimberly Pressler seems to think there's another reason for the overall improved ratings of bowling.

Pressler, a former Miss USA, has been doing the lane side announcing for the PBA televised events since 2010. She feels that spotlighting the different bowling personalities has resonated most with the viewers since the switch from ESPN to Fox and FS1 in 2017. In an article from the Associated Press that appeared at WTOP News, Pressler commented, "I think that it accentuates the show in its entirety because we're focusing on them (the players) as more than just bowlers."

Pressler, winner of the Miss USA pageant in 1999, continued: "We're focusing on them as true athletes, so that everyone can get to know them. People get to see them in a different light. They don't see them as if they were bowlers in the 1970's... they see them as athletes in 2023."

The Predictability Of Bowling

I miss the bowling of the 1970's. You knew that bowling would be on every Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. The ratings were through the roof, with only collegiate basketball offering any type of competition in that familiar time slot. The format was always the same, with a stepladder finals featuring the top five contestants. You also knew that the players had bowled a total of 42 games (or 56 games in the more prestigious events) in order to qualify for the TV finals.

Today it's hard to tell what the format will be from one week to the next, or when to watch the telecast, which I contend is part of the problem with the ratings. Case in point: during the U.S. Open contested a couple of weeks ago, a total of 48 qualifying games were rolled. Seeds 5 through 9 then participated on Saturday afternoon in a stepladder roll off to determine which of the five would advance to the TV finals on Sunday afternoon, against the top 4 seeds (1 through 4) in yet another stepladder competition.

This week the players rolled just 16 games of qualifying, with the top 12 overall players advancing to a round-robin match play consisting of 12 games. According to the pba.com website, only the top 4 overall players advance to the TV finals this week. Will they be rolling a traditional 1 through 4 stepladder, or is there another format awaiting us on Friday? Only time will tell.

What I Like About Basketball

Basketball was always my "other" sport while growing up. I used to love watching the Boston Celtics almost every Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. on the ABC network. In order to watch the game, I'd made a special arrangement with my parents to sometimes forgo the traditional Sunday church service and attend a weekly Bible class for youths that was frequently taught by none other than Charles M. Schulz, the creator of the Peanuts comic strip.

I participated in all sports while in elementary school, but by the time high school rolled around, my focus was centered on basketball, track and of course bowling. A fractured ankle while playing basketball put an end to my basketball career. I was sidelined for three weeks without bowling, which was unthinkable. I never missed another week of bowling for the next 25 years.

However, basketball remained an integral part of my life, because I was frequently taking time to shoot free throws in the afternoon as a means of developing concentration, and helping me to prepare for an evening of bowling by visualizing my routine. I also continued to watch those Sunday morning games with the Boston Celtics, one of the greatest teams ever assembled.

Along about 1976 the ABA created the first Slam Dunk Contest, featuring five of their more prominent stars: Artis Gilmore, George Gervin, Larry Kenon, David Thompson and of course Julius "Doctor J" Irving. The Doctor won that first contest, and it became an integral part of the NBA All Star Game when the ABA and NBA merged about a year later. I don't think anyone could argue that Michael Jordan is the greatest dunk master of all time, with his famous double clutch from the foul line, or coming in sideways with the hang time of Superman.

But for me, the greatest one year dunk performance was by Aaron Gordon at the 2016 Slam Dunk Contest. By incorporating the Orlando Magic mascot into some of his attempts, he brought the Slam Dunk to another level. Even more incredible is the fact that Gordon, who will not be participating this year, has never won a Slam Dunk Contest, although he has performed two of the most spectacular dunks in history.

Up Your Average

By Susie Minshew

Looking Long and Deep

You actually should be able to target at 3 feet or 28 feet or 47 feet or use the reflection of the head of a certain pin on the lane for targeting.

Targeting at different distances down the lane takes practice so it won't affect your delivery unless you want it to do so. Sometimes you might loft the ball unintentionally or pull your head up when targeting far down the lane. That can certainly mess with your consistent execution. If it is your intention to increase loft by looking farther down the lane, okay.

You just need to be sure that, if you want to loft the ball, looking down the lane is not the only way you can do that. You want to be able to look farther down the lane and put the ball down early as well. It can't be, "If I want to loft it, I look down lane and if I want to put it down early, I look short." It is not an either/or situation.

Here's another way to conquer playing deep: Move left and target the dots on the left side of the lane. I realize this is not intuitive but before you discount it, give it a try. When playing deep (especially if you're not used to it), your tendency might be to pull the ball, helping it go left, as you're fearful of sending it too wide. On the next shot, you'll "fix" that and send it wide to avoid pulling it.

Targeting the dots on the left and visualizing the path you intend to throw the ball (as, of course, you do with every shot) can help when you need to play deep but not wide. As is true with every toss, if your follow through follows the path you have in your mind, so does the ball.

EJ TACKETT SHAWNEE

The 30-year-old led the field by 545 pins, a margin of more than 15 pins per game, to earn the top seed.

"This pattern developed and ended up playing, to me, very similar to the fourth pattern at the U.S. Open," he said. "I've always bowled well here (at Firelake). A lot of things gave me confidence, so when I saw my ball start striking, it really loosened up my swing."

Despite two low-scoring matches on the championship pair, Tackett knew that wouldn't hold true for long against Barrett.

"Dom Barrett is obviously one of the greatest players of the time, so I fully anticipated him to bowl a good game," Tackett said. "I never expected it to be easy. I would've liked it to be a little easier, had I not thrown two bad shots in the middle of the game. But I put myself in the position to be able to get it done again."

Tackett seized the lead during the fourth game of match play and never looked back. He won his final nine matches to, in Barrett's words, lap the field a few times.

Barrett said he was a bit frustrated with his performance in the championship round. A missed 10-pin almost cost him in the semifinal against DJ Archer, then failed to get count after leaving a pocket 7-10 against Tackett.

But after the 7-10 gaffe, Barrett spared a 7-pin leave then struck on his final six shots to put pressure back on Tackett.

"I'm a guy who always digs really deep, finds a bit of heart no matter what and finds a way to push the other guy," Barrett said. "EJ's a fully deserving winner. He lapped the field a few times so he absolutely deserved to win."

Barrett defeated Archer 174-170 in the semifinal. Archer needed a double in the 10th frame to win the match, but a devastating 7-pin leave after the first strike ended his run.

The veteran Archer took down Joseph Grondin, who was making his championship-round debut on the PBA Tour, in the first match.

Archer said he wanted to get off to a hot start to put pressure on the 24-year-old. Strikes in the second and third frame appeared to do the trick. Grondin threw four different balls, but failed to double until the ninth frame, when Archer had taken an insurmountable lead.

Tackett, who has won two titles in three events this season, said he has not yet won back-to-back titles in his career. He'll begin his quest for consecutive titles next week in Kansas at the PBA Wichita Classic.

Youth Bowler Alberto Svedvik Bows First 300

By: Maribel Munguia

ALLEN, TX - On Saturday, February 18, Alberto Svedvik bowled his first 300 game during the last district match of the high school bowling season at JB's Allen Bowl!

He finished with the top average in the Dallas North A District, a spot he's held since Week 3 of the 10 week season.

Alberto, a 15 year old, has been bowling at JB's Allen Bowl since 5th grade when he was invited by his PE teacher to join the bowling team at his elementary school.

He fell in love with the sport ever since and has been part of many bowling leagues along with his twin sister Annika.

He bowls using a unique two-handed technique that he taught himself and is rarely ever seen with any other bowler. His coaches say it is hard to coach him because his style is so unique and different, however he sees this as a good challenge for himself and not as a problem!

Alberto is currently a freshman at Allen and is a member of the Boys' Varsity Allen Eagles team coached by Roland Martsof and Hunter Harty.

He has qualified for the singles regional and has earned an automatic spot in the National high school bowling tournament with his sanctioned 300 game! Alberto currently holds a 232 average.

Daniels, Carter and Bundrick Elected to PWBA Hall of Fame in 2023

By: Aaron Smith

ARLINGTON, Texas – The Professional Women's Bowling Association Hall of Fame will welcome three new inductees across three different categories in 2023.

Cheryl Daniels of Detroit was elected to the PWBA Hall of Fame in the Performance category, and Paula Carter of Miami was elected as an Ambassador. Mary Bundrick of Chicago will be inducted posthumously through Meritorious Service/Builder.

The 2023 PWBA Hall of Fame induction ceremony is scheduled to take place May 17 in Las Vegas in conjunction with the United States Bowling Congress Queens.

The 2023 USBC Queens is scheduled to run from May 17-23 at the Sam's Town Bowling Center inside of Sam's Town Hotel and Gambling Hall.

Daniels, 63, has won 10 PWBA Tour titles and owns one major victory at the 1995 U.S. Women's Open.

She collected her first victory at the 1989 Ebonite Firebolt Classic, which kicked off a four-win season for the talented right-hander. Daniels also collected multiple titles during the 1994 and 1995 seasons. Her last win came in 1996 at the Rossford Golden Triangle Open.

In addition to her win at the U.S. Women's Open, she has recorded nine other top-five finishes at majors and was inducted to the USBC Hall of Fame in 2002 for Superior Performance. She's also a member of the Michigan State USBC and Metro Detroit USBC Halls of Fame.

Carter, 71, is a two-time winner at the U.S. Women's Open. The left-hander captured the prestigious victory at the 1971 and 1975 events.

Her performance during the 1971 season helped her earn recognition as the International Bowling Media Association Bowler of the Year and a spot on the All-America team for Bowlers Journal International (1970-1971).

She promoted the sport through several national television appearances during the 1970s, helping bring professional women's bowling to a new audience, and in 2011, Carter received the Flowers for the Living Award. She was inducted to the USBC Hall of Fame for Superior Performance in 1994 and also is a member of the Greater Miami USBC, Florida State USBC and Florida Sports Halls of Fame.

Bundrick, who died in 2001 at the age of 89, played a major role in the creation of the PWBA and served as the organization's first president from 1959-1963.

While serving as the executive director of the Les Dames De 700 Bowling Club in the late 1950s, Bundrick looked at the formation of the Professional Bowlers Association in 1958 and hoped to bring together a similar program to showcase the top female athletes in the sport.

She hired Georgia Veatch (PWBA and USBC Hall of Famer) to serve as executive director for the new organization and invited eight prominent female bowlers to a meeting that helped set the stage for the creation of the PWBA. At the conclusion of the meeting, rules, regulations and a constitution had been approved and 23 women were made charter members of the organization.

The PWBA Hall of Fame Committee elected the 2023 class based on submitted applications. The committee is comprised of PWBA Hall of Fame members, board members of the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America and USBC and bowling media members.

Through 2022, there are 44 members of the PWBA Hall of Fame – 26 in performance, 10 in Ambassador and eight in Meritorious Service/Builder.

of tournament formats and ideas with other tournament organizers for the betterment of the sport, and her devotion to fundraising for local centers, associations and youth bowlers has been a constant over the years.

Cole has been praised for her leadership, innovation and humility in her tireless effort to recruit new bowlers to the sport, grow the base of current bowlers and better the lives of all bowlers in her area.

She is a member of the Greater Portland USBC Hall of Fame (Meritorious Service) and was the Oregon State USBC 2017 Volunteer of the Year.

"I feel very honored and blessed to be chosen to receive the Joyce Deitch Unity Award," said Cole. "This game has given me so much over the years, including lifetime friends, amazing adventures and priceless memories. To be recognized with such a special award brings tears to my eyes, and I'm forever grateful for the opportunities to serve and help grow something I am so passionate about."

The USBC Helen Baker Award for Outstanding Association Service is named in honor of the fifth president of WIBC and recognizes an outstanding bowling leader who has made invaluable contributions to local and state associations as an innovator, creator and mentor of adult programs.

Keyes, 71, has been a member of both the Greater Tampa and Florida State USBC for 49 years. At both levels, Keyes has contributed her time and talent in a variety of roles while serving in a number of director, officer and committee positions.

Keyes is the present Greater Tampa USBC Association Manager and a member of the Youth Committee. On the state level, she is the current Sergeant at Arms, Youth Tournament Director and Youth Leader Advisor. On the national level, Keyes is a former director of the Women's International Bowling Congress and the Young American Bowling Alliance.

Her commitment to the sport is noteworthy as Keyes has spent countless hours visiting bowling centers in an effort to inform league members about the benefits of sanctioning with the USBC.

Keyes became a USBC trained coach in 2004 and is a tireless advocate for youth bowling in her area. She has spent years conducting youth lessons and traveling to help organize and assist with youth tournaments.

"I am honored and humbled to be accepting the USBC Helen Baker Award this year, and I'm proud to be among the previous winners who have also contributed so much to bowling," said Keyes. "Although I never met Helen Baker, I have worked with many of the women and men who worked under her on the local, state and national levels, and I'm fortunate to have learned from some of the sport's great leaders. It is truly an honor to be given an award like this when you are so passionate about the sport of bowling, and I'd like to thank Ruby Johns, former president of the Tampa Women's Bowling Association, for nominating me."

In addition to being honored as this year's USBC Helen Baker Award recipient, Keyes is a Meritorious Service inductee in the Florida State USBC, Tampa Women's Bowling Association and Florida State USBC Youth Halls of Fame and is a two-time recipient of the Youth Leaders Landen Memorial Dedication Award.

The USBC Proprietor of the Year Award annually recognizes a bowling center proprietor for outstanding support of USBC local, state and/or national association programs.

Prentice, 49, started working at Cedarvale Lanes in Eagan, Minnesota, 28 years ago when he took a job working the counter while in college. From there, he quickly progressed to assistant bowling center manager, center manager, president, and then, 20 years ago, co-proprietor of the 32-lane venue.

Under his leadership, Cedarvale Lanes added Fitz's Bar and Grill and a space for volleyball. Perhaps most notably, Prentice has made the facility a hub for tournaments of all different levels, from professional to youth.

Cedarvale Lanes played host to Professional Women's Bowlers Association tour stops in 2018, 2019, 2021 and 2022, generating excitement for the sport within the community, especially among the younger bowlers who were able to experience the sport at its highest level.

Prentice also has made Cedarvale Lanes available for numerous high school tournaments, hosted Special Olympics events and has created a youth program that quickly built itself to more than 150 participants.

Additionally, he was the catalyst for Minnesota submitting a bid for a future USBC Junior Gold tournament. Community members cite Prentice's "Why Not Us" attitude when noting what makes Cedarvale Lanes the perfect place for tournament organizers and coaches who support growing the sport, especially for youth bowlers.

Prentice started bowling when he was seven years old and has 32 300 games and 31 800 series to his credit. He earned numerous state and local titles before retiring from competitive bowling in 2007 and is a member of the Twin Cities Bowling Association and Minnesota State Halls of Fame in the Superior Performance category.

Prentice is quick to credit his entire staff for their skill and support and notes he couldn't do anything without them.

"I'm so honored to receive this award from the USBC . . . I feel like this is a Super Bowl-type award for myself and the Cedarvale and Fitz's Bar and Grill team," said Prentice. "You can't win a Super Bowl without a great team, and that's what we've had here for many years. So, this is our award, not just mine."

The National Recognition Awards will be presented during the 2023 USBC Convention and Annual Meeting, which is set for April 24-27 at South Point Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas.

LPBT Co-founder, PWBA Hall of Famer John Falzone Dies at Age 80

By: Gene J. Kanak

ARLINGTON, Texas – John Falzone of Morris Chapel, Tennessee, co-founder of the Ladies Professional Bowlers Tour and a Professional Women's Bowling Association Hall of Famer, died Monday at the age of 80.

Falzone co-founded the LPBT in 1981 shortly after the dissolution of the Women's Professional Bowlers Association.

He served as both LPBT President and Commissioner while tour operations were headquartered at The Cherry Bowl in his hometown of Rockford, Illinois.

Among Falzone's many achievements while running the LPBT was his development of Sam's Town Hotel & Gambling Hall's umbrella sponsorship of the tour, which helped guarantee that the sport's best female competitors would have a world class venue to compete in on a yearly basis.

That accomplishment and many others led to Falzone's 1996 enshrinement in the PWBA Hall of Fame in the Meritorious/Builder Category, which is reserved for those who have advanced the PWBA as an organization and promoted the PWBA Tour through media.

Falzone is survived by his wife of 61 years, Kathy Falzone, his daughter Bonnie Falzone-Capriola, and by multiple grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

YOUTH BOWLER OF THE MONTH

OLIVIA PHILLIPS

16, from Bokchito, OK and is a home-schooled sophomore. She has an amazing lineup of coaches, Chris Warren, Butch Warren, and Stefanie Johnson that help advance her game. She bowls three days a week and has to put in some serious mileage to bowl, but she does it with a huge smile on her face. Two weeks ago, she won the Youth Scratch Masters at PSB, and now she is turning her attention to Jr. Gold with the goal of making the cut for the first time.

Hometown Bowling Center: Plano Super Bowl

How did you get started bowling? I started in a home school group in Medford, Ore. My grandmother made me go and I fell in love with it immediately; I was 11 at the time. It was my first time ever bowling. We moved down here to have more opportunities to bowl.

High Game/Series: 299 that I shot in December at Plano.

Favorite Bowler: Kelly Kulick. She is the only bowler to win a Major PBA title and she was the first professional bowler I had ever met.

Favorite bowling accomplishment: Winning the Youth Scratch Masters last month. It was my 16th birthday and I was excited to be bowling. I didn't start out so good, but in the 3rd game it clicked, and I told my best friend that if I made the cut, I was going win the tournament. Bowling the final against Veronyca West was hard because she had been bowling so well, but I had Butch, Chris, and Christopher helping me out.

What other hobbies do you have? Brazilian Ju-Jitsu. I felt that I needed to do something to stay in shape for bowling and to keep my mind sharp. There's a really good gym close to my house.

What do you love most about bowling? It's lots of fun and I like the community.

What are your bowling goals? I do want to bowl in college, not sure which one, but I'm hoping to do that. I would love to bowl professionally on both the Women's and Men's tour.
